

there is no 3gp/.avi plugin that works so can anyone help me out please. i'd really really really appreciate it, and as a reward i will you a nice /fly trap/ avatar! and a sweet mug too! :)

which is mine. email me this as your best free gift ever! thank you a ton! and also, i'd like to thank each and every one of you in advance, because you've made me feel so grateful, and that is priceless. cuddles and i have a little house to build for you!

A: Try: An approach to cataract surgery and value for money. The cost of cataract operations can be calculated using economic, clinical, and demographic data. Cost-benefit analysis is used to establish the value of cataract surgery for individuals and society. The valuation of the outcome of cataract surgery includes direct and indirect costs, disease burden, and value for money.

Patient's life expectancy is the main factor which influences cost-benefit analysis. Utilizing the National Hospital Cost Report, we estimate that a lifetime of blindness in a person is equivalent to an increased lifetime cost to society of approximately HK$3.5 million per person. Cataract surgery in Hong Kong is subsidized, but not strictly value for money, especially in those with poor vision. Missing clues in an ancient virus? In this week's Cell, Kowalczyk et al. explain how old viruses have had the ability to move undetected across the globe. The intercontinental migration of the 1918 virus, the first virus to make the leap from animals to humans, highlights the potential danger of zoonotic diseases. Although the virus was isolated in humans in the United States in the spring of the following year, some cases of the disease had been observed as early as April 1 in France. By the time that the virus spread to Europe, it had already killed more than 50 million people. The authors of the paper, "Alphaviruses in the Past," explain that the virus was reintroduced into the Western Hemisphere in the late 1970s. It spread from Alaska, where it was first isolated, to southern Canada and then all the way down to Brazil, Peru, and
